

BASK Whistleblowing Policy

At BASK we expect all our colleagues, both internal and external, to be professional at all times and hold the welfare and safety of every child as their paramount objective.

We recognise that there may be occasions where this may not happen and we have in place a procedure for staff to disclose any information that suggests children's welfare and safety may be at risk.

We expect all team members to talk through any concerns they may have with the Manager at the earliest opportunity to enable any problems to be resolved as soon as they arise.

Legal framework

The Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998, commonly referred to as the 'Whistle-blowing Act', amended the Employment Rights Act 1996 to provide protection for employees who raise legitimate concerns about specified matters. These are called 'qualifying disclosures'. On 25 June 2013 there were some legal changes to what constitutes a qualifying disclosure.

A qualifying disclosure is one made in the public interest by an employee who has a reasonable belief that:

- a criminal offence
- a miscarriage of justice
- an act creating risk to health and safety
- an act causing damage to the environment
- a breach of any other legal obligation or
- concealment of any of the above
- any other unethical conduct is being, has been, or is likely to be, committed.

Qualifying disclosures made before 25 June 2013 must have been made 'in good faith' but when disclosed, did not necessarily have to have been made 'in the public interest.'

Disclosures made after 25 June 2013 do not have to be made 'in good faith'; however, they must be made in the public interest. This is essential when assessing a disclosure made by an individual.

The Public Interest Disclosure Act has the following rules for making a protected disclosure:

- you must believe it to be substantially true
- you must not act maliciously or make false allegations

you must not seek any personal gain.

It is not necessary for the employee to have proof that such an act is being, has been, or is likely to be, committed; a reasonable belief is sufficient.

Disclosure of information

If staff become aware of information which they reasonably believe indicates that a child is/may be or is likely to be in risk of danger and or one or more of the following may be happening, they MUST use BASK'S disclosure procedure set out below:

That a criminal offence has been committed or is being committed or is likely to be committed

That a person has failed, is failing or is likely to fail to comply with any legal obligation to which they are subject

That a miscarriage of justice has occurred, is occurring, or is likely to occur

That the health or safety of any individual has been, is being, or is likely to be, endangered

That the environment, has been, is being, or is likely to be, damaged

That information tending to show any of the above, has been, is being, or is likely to be, deliberately concealed.

Disclosure procedure

If this information relates to child protection then BASK'S child protection policy should be followed, with particular reference to the staff and volunteering section. Where you reasonably believe one or more of the above circumstances listed above has occurred you should promptly disclose this to your manager so that any appropriate action can be taken. If it is inappropriate to make such a disclosure to your manager (i.e. because it relates to your manager) you should speak to BASK's Service Provider, The Care Inspectorate, SSSC, Social Services, Inverclyde Child Protection Committee, the Child's Named Person or The Police.

Employees will suffer no detriment of any sort for making such a disclosure in accordance with this procedure. For further guidance in the use of the disclosure procedure, employees should speak in confidence to the BASK's manager/owner. Any disclosure or concerns raised will be treated seriously, will be dealt with in a consistent and confidential manner and will be followed through in a detailed and thorough manner.

Any employee who is involved in victimising employees who make a disclosure, takes any action to deter employees from disclosing information or makes malicious allegations will be subject to potential disciplinary action which may result in dismissal.

Failure to report serious matters can also be investigated and potentially lead to disciplinary action which may result in dismissal.

Any management employee who inappropriately deals with a whistleblowing issue (e.g. failing to react appropriately by not taking action in a timely manner or disclosing confidential information) may be deemed to have engaged in gross misconduct which could lead to dismissal

We give all of our staff the telephone numbers of the Local Authority Child Protection team and Local authority social services and the Care Inspectorate so all staff may contact them if they cannot talk to anyone internally about the issues/concerns observed.
